Speaking Topics

The Art of Setting Reasonable Expectations

Do you know “what” to expect of your team? Communicating reasonable expectations and then following through doesn’t have to be complicated.

Find your Sweet Spot

Let’s change it up! This is NOT your typical time management discussion. Did you know you have a sweet spot in your day when you are up to 3 times more creative and productive? Would you like to recapture 10 - 20% of your time by identifying YOUR sweet spot time?

Maximize Your Now! Series

This series is designed to drive culture change, improve bottom line performance, and maximize existing resources to exponentially increase capacity, throughput and efficiency. Regardless of industry, by applying these principles you will gain 15%, or more, in operational and / or financial improvements.

Bio

I knew early on I was “wired” a bit differently than others in my life. Maybe you can relate.

Founder of both J Martin Consulting and Multi Axis Manufacturing LLC, I want to use my 20+ years of operational and leadership excellence to work for, and with, YOU. Approachable and down to earth, I share stories, success strategies and leadership principles to maximize your ability to succeed. My expertise focuses on empowering leadership, managing behavior change and growing amazing teams. Allowing YOU to confidently implement process improvement, effectively use resources, and driving bottom line performance.
